Building futures: A record year of homeownership

Building futures: A record year of homeownership

Together, we have much to celebrate from this past year.

Whether you contributed your time, money, materials, or shopped at our ReStores, each of you played a vital role in turning our mission into reality for over 200 people. We are thrilled to announce that for the first time in our history, your generosity and support helped us build and sell 50 homes in a single year. This milestone is a testament to the power of community and the transformative impact we can achieve when we work together.

As we look ahead, we remain steadfast in our commitment to addressing the ongoing housing challenges that many in our region continue to face. Despite these challenges, your support gives us hope as we forge ahead toward our goal of doubling the number of homes we build and repair annually in the coming years. Building futures together will expand our impact with extraordinary results for our entire community.

We hope you are proud of all that you have accomplished as part of the Habitat community this past year. We now have 165 homes in different phases of construction, and even more is possible with your continued support as we build futures together. Thank you for your commitment to building homes, communities, and hope with Habitat for Humanity.

In Partnership,

2024 HOMEOWNER IMPACT

Family finds room to grow at Alder Commons

Eliseo and Mirian lived in a small Hillsboro apartment with their four small children, and while they were able to make it work for several years, the situation was inadequate for a family of six. To make matters worse, their rent increased every year, becoming unaffordable.

Mirian takes care of the kids while Eliseo works as a landscaper during the day. On certain evenings after work, he sings at church to take a moment for himself to do what he loves. But as hard as they worked, buying a home was still out of reach, until they connected with Habitat.

“The house is a blessing for our kids. They know it’s their home now.”

In January, the family moved into their own home at Habitat’s new Alder Commons in Hillsboro.

Eliseo said it is comforting knowing that the home is affordable and will be a lasting investment for his family.

“It’s a nice place for everybody and there is nothing more special than a house,” Eliseo said. “The house is a blessing for our kids. They know it’s their home now.”

Mirian is a second-generation Habitat homeowner. Her mother moved into her own Habitat home in Beaverton 15 years ago, where she is close enough to help watch the kids. For Eliseo, having helped build his and his neighbors’ homes and seeing the community come to life was a special experience.

HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM

The path to homeownership

Each year, we are excited to work with new individuals and families on their journey to homeownership. That journey begins while the homes are still under construction when applicants submit their interest to our Homeownership team.

Habitat homebuyers have an average household income of about $51,000. Each homebuyer attends homeownership education classes to prepare them to be successful homeowners in the future.

Habitat connects homebuyers with preferred lenders to provide affordable mortgages that let them build equity while keeping the home affordable for future owners. By partnering with Proud Ground, the Portland region’s largest community land trust, we can ensure these homes stay affordable for generations.

Even after homeowners move in, Habitat continues to support success by providing homeownership education classes for homeowners to learn about maintaining their home, securing their financial wellbeing, and becoming more engaged in their communities.

DID YOU KNOW?

While our classes are targeted at the needs of Habitat homeowners, most are also open to the public. Visit habitatportlandregion.org/homeownership-education.

HOME REPAIR PROGRAM

Helping people stay in their homes as they age

Habitat partners with homeowners with low incomes to complete repairs that alleviate health and safety issues.

Our goal is to prevent displacement and support aging in place by making repairs such as replacing roofs, siding and gutters; addressing minor plumbing issues; installing wheelchair ramps; and providing other accessibility improvements, such as adding grab bars and removing trip hazards.

In 2024, we provided 36 repairs to 85 people across the Portland metropolitan region and have plans to complete 60 repairs in the coming year.

For more on the Home Repair program, visit habitatportlandregion.org/home-repair.

Home Repair

HOME REPAIR STORY

Repair ensures future of family home

When Anna partnered with Habitat’s Home Repair program, it was to install a wheelchair ramp at their home for her mother Evelyn. But shortly after her mother passed away last year, the ramp became a lifeline for Anna herself.

Anna suffered a fall that broke her pelvis and five ribs. She could hardly walk, and the ramp provided therapy and mobility, and the security of staying in her own home — the home she’s lived in for 65 years.

“We didn’t have a lot growing up, and so to be able to stay here for a little longer would mean so much to me,” Anna said. “But I wouldn’t be able to stay here if I didn’t have things in place, like the ramp, to be able to do that.”

2024 CONSTRUCTION SUMMARY

Building a new future today

This year, we celebrated a record 50 home sales in the Portland region.

Two new neighborhoods came to life as homeowners moved into our Alder Commons and Foster Commons communities in Hillsboro and southeast Portland. And we've set in place the foundation and framework for even more homes across the region.

Century Commons, our new 18-home community in Hillsboro, developed quickly this past year with 3- and 4-bedroom townhomes now walled in, along with 4 single-level, ADA-ready homes. Right on Century's heels is our new 16-home King City Commons, which saw framework rising from new foundations last spring.

At each of these sites and others, teams of volunteers and homebuyers work alongside staff, fostering direct relationships and a sense of community in the shared mission to ensure everyone has a safe and affordable place to call home.

For all the excitement happening on construction sites, Habitat staff never stop working to secure land and funding to put new communities in motion. In addition to the 50 homes sold this past year, Habitat has 165 homes in different phases of construction across the Portland region.

CONSTRUCTION LOOKING FORWARD

The milestones ahead

Looking to the coming year, we're excited to embark on multiple landmark communities across the Portland region.

This year, we celebrated the launch of West Lake Grove, a 23-home community in the Lake Grove neighborhood of Lake Oswego, bringing a welcomed addition to a city lacking affordable homeownership opportunities.

"Children will grow up here, families will live here who would never otherwise be able to afford a home in Lake Oswego," said Lake Oswego Mayor Joe Buck. "The diversity of the population required to have a healthy, robust and vibrant community demands that more of us come together and continue to say, 'Yes, this is just the beginning for Lake Oswego.'"

We're also excited to begin work on Gooseberry Trails, our largest community to date, bringing 52 new, affordable homes to the Hillsdale neighborhood in southwest Portland. In Gresham, preparation is underway for 20 new homes in the Rockwood neighborhood. Myrtlewood Way promises to become a vibrant community in a culturally rich area of the Portland region. With 165 homes in different phases of construction, this coming year will be one of our busiest ever!

VOLUNTEERING AT HABITAT

Habitat volunteers build inclusive, healthier communities

Volunteerism at Habitat for Humanity is pivotal not only for building homes but also for fostering vibrant, inclusive communities.

By bringing together individuals from diverse backgrounds, the organization promotes a culture of equity and inclusion where every volunteer's unique perspectives and skills contribute to the collective mission. Additionally, volunteering offers substantial health benefits, including improved mental well-being through the fulfillment of contributing to a meaningful cause and physical health from engaging in hands-on tasks.<sup>1</sup> This blend of purpose and activity helps build stronger, healthier communities. Volunteers dedicate their time and skills in a number of areas, including:

- Building and repairing homes
- Supporting sustainability efforts in the ReStores
- Assembling playhouses in partnership with other nonprofits
- Assisting in administrative projects
- Supporting special events

Community Days

In support of creating an inclusive culture at Habitat, Community Days is a program where intentional spaces are provided for affinity groups to learn new skills and empower each other in areas where they have historically been left out. This past year, Habitat has reserved Community Days for people who identify as women+ and LGBTQ+ on build sites and will continue to expand to include more affinity groups.

For more on individual and group opportunities, visit habitatportlandregion.org/volunteer.

The store that builds and repairs homes

The ReStores are home improvement stores and donation centers that generate funds to support Habitat for Humanity's homebuilding and home repair programs throughout the Portland region.

We sell new and gently used furniture, home decor, appliances, lighting, building materials, and more at discounted prices to the public. You can shop online or in-store at any of our three ReStore locations in Beaverton, Gresham, and Portland. We'll be opening our fourth ReStore location in Tigard in spring 2025. Every ReStore shopper, donor, and volunteer is helping solve the region's housing crisis by building strength, stability, and independence through affordable homeownership.

Visit pdxrestore.org to shop, donate, or volunteer.

ADVOCACY INITIATIVES

Habitat's advocacy priorities

Habitat for Humanity Portland Region advocates at the local, state, and federal levels to protect and expand policies and resources for affordable homeownership and thriving communities.

Our advocacy priorities are to build more affordable homes for sale, provide equitable access to homeownership, plan for inclusive land use, and provide more housing opportunities for historically marginalized communities.

The 2024 Oregon legislative session achieved historic housing investments but also pointed to the sustained effort needed to ensure that affordable homeownership is included in the state's funding and policy priorities. Amid a housing crisis, investments across the housing continuum are needed. By investing in homeownership, we free up affordable rentals and create a path to lasting stability, not just a temporary roof. That's why we're partnering with Habitat Oregon to support the Unlocking Homeownership campaign, which will bring ambitious homeownership goals to the 2025 session.

At the federal level, our annual Habitat on the Hill convenes more than 400 advocates from across the country to share policy strategies and to meet with senators and representatives to advocate for housing and homeownership. In 2024, Habitat Portland Region was proud to showcase Portland's innovative anti-displacement strategy, the North/Northeast Preference Policy. In recognition of past actions that have marginalized and displaced longtime residents of North and Northeast Portland, the Portland Housing Bureau developed a preference policy that allowed households with generational ties to remain in or return to the area. The initiative helps address the city's legacy of displacement and marginalization of largely African American neighborhoods due to urban renewal, redlining, and racist lending policies.

For more on our advocacy priorities, visit habitatportlandregion.org/advocacy/.
